Christophe Pillet

Christophe Pillet is a French designer who has won international acclaim for the spectrum and quality of his creations. Architecture, objects, furniture, and art direction: his signature is invariably associated with the finest brands and projects of ever-increasing weight and prestige.

The scope and the variety of his projects share a common attitude, independent of scale. His considered interpretations are a testament to high-voltage chic, distinguished both by its precision and rigour.
A Timeless Proposal

The idea of capturing the charismatic substance of the French back garden in a timeless proposal sets the mood for the A600 series. This idea crystalized in the petite, forgiving looks of Christophe Pillet's conception, which is an account of design best practises and a dialogue of contrasts.
Not Just Rocket Science

To produce robust yet lightweight structures, there is one material that stands out: Aluminium 6061, a high-performance stock celebrated for its use in aerospace industry. This metal is also all weather resistant and rust-proof.
The Gentle Touch

Though it is fitted with aluminium panels, shaped like padding, the seating incites a warm response. The oven-cured powder paint delivers a soft, tactile feel, plus a matt sandy texture that is urban and unfussy.
In&Out Versatility

While the A600 Series is conceived for outdoors, it performs swiftly indoors. The proportions used, its cleanliness, flair, and the contemporaneous of its lines make it impeccable for indoor spaces also.
